

SNOWFLAKE CASE WILL BE HEARD

Judge Rules Hunt's Charges in This One Precinct Can Be Reconsidered.

Phoenix, Ariz., March 27.—On the opening of court this morning Judge Holla M. Stanford ruled that he would permit counsel for former Gov. G. W. P. Hunt, contesting the election of Gov. Thomas E. Campbell, to introduce evidence on alleged irregularities committed in the election at Snowflake, Apache county, but that the contestee would be limited to this one precinct, in view of the fact that he had announced the closing of his case, Snowflake gave a majority of 116 for Campbell and the contestee alleged that an active supporter of Campbell was present in the booth assisting voters in making their ballots.

On similar grounds Judge Stanford last week threw out Senator No. 1 precinct which had returned a majority of 122 for Hunt. The Snowflake case will be taken up on Tuesday of next week, the witnesses having to be brought here.

The Republican side has not yet closed its case and is understood to be able to take up any precinct it may question. The court is progressing on precincts selected by the Republican side, with steady but small gains for Campbell.

ROBINSON GAINS 20 POUNDS

"Money couldn't buy the good Tanlac has done me," he says.

"I have not only gained twenty pounds in the past thirty days but my recovery has surprised everybody who knew about my direful condition," said Virgil H. Robinson, of 3314 Live Oak street, Dallas, recently in one of the most remarkable statements yet made in connection with Tanlac.

"Last February a year ago," continued Mr. Robinson, "I was taken down with what some said was auto-intoxication and what others called ulcer of the stomach. My stomach was full of gas all the time and I was badly bloated. I was unable to breathe at times on account of the gas pressure and my heart acted so peculiarly I thought I had heart trouble. I was sent to the hospital on two occasions for treatment and was told an operation would have to be made before I could get well."

"I had three X-ray examinations, had blood tests and took lots of medicines but kept getting worse. I was so nervous and miserable I could hardly sleep and was so weak I could scarcely walk. I fell off from over two hundred pounds to one hundred and fifty and my clothes just hung on me. My case seemed to puzzle everybody and I kept going down hill until I made up my mind I couldn't live. I had belched sour gases so long till my throat was raw and sore and I lived on cereals and soup so long I had no strength."

"My father had read a great deal about Tanlac and insisted that I take it and a lady friend and neighbor of ours right up the street sent word several times for me to try it. I didn't have much hope of it helping but I was in such a desperate condition I was willing to try anything. So you may know I was surprised and overjoyed after taking Tanlac a few days to find I was feeling better. Before I had taken half of my first bottle I could tell I was picking up in weight and improving rapidly. I weighed regularly and found I was gaining at the rate of half a pound a day."

"I now weigh one hundred and seventy pounds, have already gained back twenty pounds of my lost flesh and am still gaining, not only in weight but in health and strength. I eat just any and everything I want and feel simply fine. My niece got my overcoat out the other day and said, 'Well, we had not this away, we thought for good because we didn't think you would live to wear it again.' The way I'm picking up now I'll soon be large enough for my old overcoat, but the best of all is my troubles are gone and there's not enough money in Dallas to buy the good Tanlac has done me. All my people think I was going to die and now they can't stop talking about the wonderful work of Tanlac in my case. I feel like I want to tell everybody personally about it. My phone number is in the book and I'll be glad to talk to anyone trying to find relief from their suffering."

Tanlac is sold in El Paso by Kelly & Pollard, and People's Drug Store.—Adv.

The vexed question of how to completely remove superfluous hair has been solved at last by means of the new electrolysis process. The hair roots, roots and all, come out before your very eyes—easily, harmlessly, "quick as a wink." It is so different from the electrolysis, electrical and shaving methods you simply must try it to fully appreciate its remarkable advantages.

Electrolysis is perfectly safe, non-painful, non-inflammatory, and could not be without the least injury. It leaves the skin as soft, smooth and hairless, no one could tell you ever had a mole, wart, or other hairy growth. It will remove a skin of perfection and follow the simple instructions you will certainly be astonished and delighted with the results. Dr. K. J. Kelly will refund the price upon request.—Adv.

HOW TO JUDGE A WOMAN BY HER HAIR

There is real common sense in just noticing whether the hair is well kept to judge of a woman's neatness, or good taste. If you are one of the few who try to make the most of your hair, remember that it is not advisable to wash the hair with any cleanser made for all purposes, but always use some good preparation made expressly for shampooing. You can enjoy the very best by getting some camellia from your druggist, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Dandruff, excess oil, and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Adv.

TWO SOLDIERS GIVEN 5 YEARS

Palmer Jones and J. H. Lay,
Charged With Car
Holdup, Sentenced.

After being out but a few minutes the jury in the case of the state against Palmer Jones and J. H. Lay, soldiers, charged with holding up and robbing a street car near Fort Bliss on the night of February 21, returned a verdict of guilty. Judge W. D. Howe, presiding in the 24th district court, then sentenced the men to five years each in the penitentiary.

Deny Their Guilt.
Both men were on the witness stand Monday and denied they were guilty. Jones stated he was 23 years of age and enlisted in Detroit, Mich., and his home, he said, was in Louisville, Ky. On the night of the alleged holdup he said he was in El Paso and attended a dance. The witness said he did not return to camp until 4 o'clock in the morning. Prior to going to the dance he said he took his companion Lay to camp and put him to bed.

Says Doesn't Remember.
Lay testified his home was in Evansville, Ind., and stated on the night of the alleged holdup he was placed on a car by his companion, Jones, and taken to a railroad crossing near Fort Bliss where he did not remember anything that occurred until the next morning.

Could Not Identify Accused.
A. L. Gentry, the motorman, and C. Stull, the conductor of the street car, testified that they were held up. Stull said he was robbed of three $10 bills and some change. He said he was flagging the car at a railroad crossing near Fort Bliss when he was held up. Neither of the crew could identify the accused men. They stated the holdups were made by two men, one with a revolver and the other with a knife. Gentry said the man with the revolver fired and a part of Gentry's little finger was shot off.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT TO STOP LIQUOR ADVERTISING

Austin, Texas, March 27.—The federal postoffice department, through W. H. Lamar, solicitor, today requested attorneys general Loomis to furnish the postoffice department with the opinions, rulings and laws affecting the circulation of literature or circulars into dry territory in Texas.

This information is wanted in order that the postoffice department may properly enforce the federal act approved on March 2, 1917, and which becomes effective on July 1.

This new federal law, which is in the nature of a rider to the postoffice appropriation bill, prohibits the circulation through the mails of liquor advertisements or circulars in dry territory. Copies of the Allison liquor law, which now prohibits such circulation into dry territory, and rulings by the attorney general, were sent to the solicitor for the postoffice department.

BRAND MEXICAN RAILWAY TURN BACK STORY "RUBBISH"

New York, March 27.—A report from Mexico City that New York bankers had proposed to the Carranza government that the national railways be turned back to the stockholders, who would waive their claims against that government for damages and defaulted interest in return for a surrender of its government's interest in the stock was succinctly characterized by one of the bankers referred to as "rubbish." "Sometime," he added, "conditions across the Rio Grande will quiet down so that the railways may be taken in hand and refinanced, but with war in Mexico, and with no disposition to send good money after the millions lost in Mexican roads," one banker said.

LETTERS TO THE HERALD
(All communications must bear the signature of the writer, but the name will be withheld if requested.)

THE SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION
Editor El Paso Herald:
There seems to be a growing interest in the election to be held on the 14th day of April for members of the school board, and this interest is very commendable for the people of El Paso are entitled to the best in every line of endeavor and civic participation.

There is naturally a desire to select the best material obtainable for school directors.

The average business man feels that in an emergency he is capable of filling such a position and that while there is no compensation, there is glory enough in it. He never any difficulty in having a sufficient number from which to make selection.

It is related of an old negro, who thought he had a "call" to preach that, in a vision, he saw in large type the letters "G. P. C." which he interpreted to mean "Go Preach Christ." At the first time he attempted to deliver his "message," the congregation dispersed, and that he had made a mistake and that a correct interpretation would have been, "Go Pick Cotton." No application can be made of this story in this campaign, for, of course, all the candidates are reputed to be above the average. The writer has no favorites, but the point which is desired to be clearly brought out is that fitness, education, experience and training educational lines are qualifications most to be desired. The welfare of our boys and girls is the paramount issue, and the woman candidate for one of the places is said to possess all these qualifications in an eminent degree, and that being true, there is no reason why she should not make one of the most valuable members on the board.

The question of salaries does not particularly enter into the equation, but it is of some sound sense and good judgment, based on qualifications of the children's health, and to the action of the teachers in this matter during the last few days.

Who gives them the right to sit in judgment and override me concerning the things my child shall eat? asks one parent. "And is it reasonable to think that these children's women know better than I what is best for the boy I have brought up and whose health is perfect? They may be able to discuss more learnedly than I about health matters. They may be able to hand out highbrow stuff about health."

REV. MILES HANSON GETS A CALL TO OLD BOSTON CHURCH

Mr. Hanson, by making known the message to his congregation said he could not make up his mind as to how he should answer, and asked them to consider the situation. He received the call at the close of the services he recently conducted in Boston.

The First Church of Roxbury is one of the two oldest churches in Boston. It was founded in 1630, and has ever since been closely connected with the greatest events of United States history.
